

Johns Hopkins Bayview Medical Center Internship Program

OBJECTIVE

Johns Hopkins Bayview Medical Center seeks to increase and expand the educational opportunities of students. To further this goal, the Johns Hopkins Bayview Medical Center has developed an internship program to provide students with an educational experience in a professional work environment.

GENERAL INTERNSHIP DESCRIPTION

Internship positions are only available to individuals who are enrolled or accepted for enrollment as a student (full time or part time) in any high school, vocational school, undergraduate program or graduate program. All internship positions are unpaid, but students may be eligible to earn academic credit. All the intern's assignments will be directly beneficial to the student and designed to expose him or her to a professional industry. The student will work closely with a Johns Hopkins Bayview Medical Center professional, whom will periodically review and provide feedback on all assigned tasks.

INTERN AGREEMENT

I, _____, understand that the purpose of the internship is to provide me with a professional learning experience. I understand that this internship is an academic opportunity and its sole purpose is to enhance and supplement my education. I also understand that my internship with the Johns Hopkins Bayview Medical Center is unpaid and that completing the internship does not guarantee me a position or an offer of employment with the medical center.
